(57) Fever Manager is a product for controlling and managing fever. Unlike anti-fever medications, FM does not suppress fever but maintains fever within comfortable limits. A lot of current medical research discourage fever treatment and support the idea of managing fever. FM can be "fine tuned" and adjusted to keep temperature at an optimum balance between immediate discomfort and longer term discomfort. Its recommended for patients vomiting excessively and not able to retain oral fever medication. It is used to control patients with a history of febrile convulsions and allergic to acetaminophen or ibuprofen.
