(51) Int.Cl.8: C 07D 307/00, 307/50 (57): A method of gaseous acid catalysis which finds particular applications in the manufacture of furfural includes the steps of introducing a solid reactant containing one or more hydroxyl groups into a reactor (1); introducing superheated steam from a superheater (2) until the temperature within the reactor (1) is higher than that of the dew points of both water and the catalyst and the reactant is dry. The catalyst is then introduced into the superheated steam by vaporiser (3). Product gas formed is liquidified in condenser (4) and the condensate collected in a buffer tank (5). Separation plant 6 isolates the product gas and recovers the acid catalyst, preferably as its azeotrope with water, and recycles it into the vaporiser.

(57): A syringe assembly having passive disabling structure includes a barrel (102) and a plunger rod (108) assembly. The plunger rod assembly includes a plunger rod and a stopper (128) connected by an indexing locking element (130). The number of strokes of the syringe plunger before the stopper is locked into the barrel rendering the syringe assembly unusable is determined by the number of detents on the plunger rod and stopper which engage the locking mechanism. Upon completion of the final delivery stroke, any attempt to withdraw the plunger rod from the barrel will cause the locking element to engage the barrel and trap the stopper in the barrel preventing further use of the syringe.

(57): A device (32) is provided for separating particles in a material (34), the particles having different conductivities. the device (32) comprises a feeder (36) for accomodating the material (34), the feeder (36) defining an outlet opening (38). Charging means (40) is located within the feeder (36) and proximate the opening (38) of the feeder (36), the charging means (40) being arranged to directly charge the particles. The device (32) further includes a rotatable drum (42) that is located adjacent the opening (38) of the feeder (36). In use, the charging means (40) is arranged to produce a cloud of similarly charged particles that leave the feeder (36) via the opening (38) and land on the drum (42) substantially as a monolayer, conductive particles (48) subsequently losing their charge to the drum (42) and thus falling off, while the insulative/ less conductive particles (50) remains charged and thus attracted to the surface of the drum (42) so as to be removed further on in the rotation of the drum (42).
