(57) Petroleum based products form a high proportion of energy used in transportation, domestic cooking and lighting. Biodiesel is a renewable diesel fuel substitute that can be made by chemically combining any natural oil or fat with an alcohol such as methanol or ethanol through transesterification, bringing the physio-chemical properties of the oils closer to those of the petro-diesel. Feedstock comprises 65-78% of the overall costs of biodiesel production hence biodiesel processors have strong incentives to produce or purchase feedstock at the lowest possible cost. Second generation biofuels are thus gaining interest because of their non-competence with food materials. Jatropha curcas seeds have been rated as one of the best candidate for biodiesel production due to its adaptability to semi-arid lands and its non-edible. However, water, fertilizer and pest control are required for the plant to produce abundant seeds. It also still requires large plantation land areas for maximum oil yields, in addition to good pressing equipment for oil extraction. Waste vegetable oils present an inexpensive raw material for biodiesel production. P.O. BOX 54708-00200, NAIROBI

The present invention discloses is a nano-formulated product composition, comprising Azadirachta indica (neem) bark extract and silver nanoparticles (AgNPs) in the ratio of 1:9, wherein silver metal concentration is one millimole (1mM), the pH of the medium is about 8, the temperature of the medium is about 25°C and the optimum reaction time is 72 hours. Further disclosed is a process of nanoparticle-formulating A. indica bark extract nanoparticle for in-vitro anti-proliferative and in-vivo anti tumor activity. the process involves extraction of A. indica bark by air drying, pulverizing the dried sample, macerating the powder in methanol filtering and concentrating the extract to dryness. also disclosed is a means of monitoring the said progress of the reaction between silver metal ions and the bark extract by periodic sampling using UV spectrophotometer. The resultant nanoparticles are purified by centrifugation and the synthesized AgNPs is washed and freeze-dried for application in anticancer nanotechnology.

The present invention discloses a tool for remote monitoring of channels consumed by all TV receivers within a specific area. The said invention provides a return channel in all Television (TV) receivers without the burden of revising the component infrastructure of the current Set Top Box (STB) or digital TV. The return channel transmitter notifies a remote server every time each TV receiver, within the specific geographical area, changes channels. The return channel transmitter is developed entirely from program code that can utilize the existing resources of a STB/digital TV, such resources being; processor, memory, antenna and other processing software within the STB/digital TV. The return channel transmitter is wirelessly submitted to an existing STB/digital TV where it seamlessly reside within the STB/digital TV and facilitate transmission of identities of selected channels and the times of selection.

A hand-operated manual laundry machine of a paired leverage-fulcrum system invention is disclosed. The machine comprises a rectangular base (A) that provides a support framework for mounting a plurality of sub-assemblies: a rectangular trough (B) with a detachable stationery layer of a rectangular agitator (C), two mobile rectangular agitators (D) that are suspended by a leverage-fulcrum (E), and detachable framework of sit-fulcrum suspension systems (F) according to Figure 1 below. The machine design is fabricated using mechanical engineering functional structures of the said sub-assemblies. The machine is operated by hands in a push and pulls momentum of a paired vertical leverage-fulcrum system which leverages, amplifies and transmits the momentum input energy of the operator to the two mobile agitators, thus reducing the workload effects of washing. The agitator provides the structured output of the workload energy of two opposing momentum forces as the mechanism for washing.

The present invention discloses a system that optimizes contextual cartographic content for location based navigation service (LBNS). The system comprises a mobile handset device 102 which has an application that runs the system. LBNS further comprises a user 103, Internet service 101, telecommunication services 105, geospatial data 106 stored as coordinates and topology and satellite positioning component 104 as in FIG 1 below. The invention further discloses a method of executing the system comprising steps of: launching, entering user status 103a and travel mode 103b, fetching information on fickle parameters which comprises; battery power 201, data volume 202, signal strength 203, time of delivery 204, distance to destination 104a, processing cartographic visualization content, requesting for accessible- database via internet, responding and disbatching from database server and showing contextual cartographic content on display unit. The method further provides a system that monitors the parameters repeatedly to the destination.

(57) A single-action convertible utility knife and scraper includes a carriage and a slide mechanism slidably mounted within a housing. A blade support is pivotally mounted on the carriage for movements of a blade between cutting and scraper orientations. The carriage and the slide mechanism can be moved by an external button between a retracted position wherein the blade support is fully retracted within the housing, an extended position wherein the blade support is in an operative cutting or scraping position and a conversion position wherein the blade support is moved forwardly of the extended position to enable the blade support to transition from one orientation to another while clearing the housing. A bi-stable mechanism alternately pivots the blade support between the first and second orientations when the external button is successively advanced to move the slide mechanism forwardly beyond the extended position to incrementally advanced positions.

This present invention discloses a process of blocking Plasmodium gametocytogenesis and transmission using Juliprosopine of Formula 1 (2,3-dihydro-1H-indolizidinium) from Prosopis juliflora for malaria control. The process comprises potential activities to pharmacological arrest of Plasmodium falciparum sexual differentiation during gametocytogenesis and transmission by a mesquite composition, as a pre-requisite intervention for malaria elimination, by treating and/or preventing the spread of malaria parasites. Specifically, the invention involves an antimalarial agent that inhibits Plasmodium trophozoite-to-schizont transition between 24-72 h post-invasion, crossing over to block gametocyte differentiation and viability. The invention further relates to the process of obtaining the disclosed an indolizidinium alkaloid compound namely; Juliprosopine of Formula 1 for preventing transmissions.

The method relates to the field of telecommunications-and designed for notifying subscribers of calls in cellular networks designed to notify subscribers of unsuccessful outgoing Missed Calls Alert ('MCA') calls and incoming Who Calls ("WHC") calls. This method allows the provider to increase the efficiency of passive analysis of network events by analyzing messages from the CAP and DIAMETR protocols for two MCA and WHC services simultaneously, and to send notifications not only for unsuccessful outgoing MCA calls, but also for incoming WHC calls. This allows increasing the information content of the MCA service by simplifying integration with the WHC service. Additionally, the proposed network architecture adapts well to IN and IMS network architectures.

The machine has a thermometer gun (b) suspended on solar panel support (t) and a sink (e) as shown in Fig. 2 below. It enables the user to wash hands properly without having to touch the tap (d) nor the soap vessel and can take and record temperature of the user and track the number of people who have used it daily. It has a solar panel and battery and can send measured temperatures online for tracking. It is equipped with electronic system programmed to sense presence of hands under the tap and dispenses soap for a second and 15 seconds later. It dispenses water for 15 seconds and is equipped with a detector to measure and display the water level in the tank.

(51) Int.Cl.2016.01: A 23K 10/00

(57) Abstract:

A method of minimizing the effects of aflatoxin in animal feeds, improving nutritional value and palatability of hay, overgrown pastures, post-harvest crop residues, oil-seed cakes, such as cotton seedcake, sunflower cake etc for animal feeds, is disclosed. The process involves treating the aforementioned with probiotics comprising of at least one or more beneficial bacteria including Bacillus safensis, Bacillus subtilis, Bacillus mageterium, saccharomyces cerevisae and Capriavidus metallidurans. Specifically the invention provides a method of eradicating aflatoxin and other mycotoxins in livestock feed materials, increasing palatability and digestibility of post-harvest crop residues, oil seed cakes, cereal grains and their by-products through ensilement and multiplication of the stated probiotics. The herein disclosed process unlocks the nutritional value of animal feed materials by breaking down cell use and hemicellulose. Increasing microbial protein and energy and introducing beneficial metabolites like vitamins & enzymes lead to improved palatability, increased feed utilization, minimized nutrients wastage through cow dung, improved animal health due to elimination of aflatoxin and increased safe meat and milk products.

(51) Int.Cl.: A 61K 31/045, A 61K 9/66, A 61K 47/30

(57) Abstract: Methods and compositions are disclosed for delivering lutein or other antioxidant to target tissues such as the eye, in bioactive form, while protecting the antioxidant from degradation. The antioxidant is encapsulated in nanoparticles comprising a protein such as zein or a polymer such as poly(lactic-co-glycolic acid) (PLGA). Preferably a surfactant is associated with the nanoparticles as well, further helping to protect the antioxidant. After the nanoparticles are administered to the target tissue, bioactive antioxidant is released to the tissue over time. Optionally, the nanoparticles are admixed with a thermosensitive, bioadhesive gel to promote slow release of antioxidant. The methods and compositions are useful for treating or preventing conditions such as age-related macular degeneration or cataracts.

(51) Int.Cl.: F 03B 13/20, F 04B 5/02, F 15B 7/02

(57) Abstract: A bi-directional pump system, configurable for a plurality of operating modes, is shown. The pump system includes a plurality of bi-directional pumps, each having their own valving systems connected to common high pressure, low pressure and suction manifolds. Via the respective valve systems, each pump can be configured into four modes: single-acting; double-acting; inactive free motion; and inactive rigid. An articulated wave energy conversion apparatus uses the pump system and consists of three floating barges: a front barge, a center barge and a rear barge where the front barge and center barge are hingedly connected as are the center barge and the rear barge. A first pump set spans the first hinge and the second pump set spans the second hinge. The pump system intakes sea water and, using wave energy, outputs a high pressure sea water flow for water desalination and/or for driving electrical generators.

(54) Title: MEASUREMENT AND TREATMENT OF FLUID STREAMS

(51) Int.Cl.: G 01N 1/10, C 02F 1/00

(57) Abstract: A method and system for measuring and treating fluid streams having particles therein is disclosed. A sample of the fluid stream is obtained and processed to remove large particles, to obtain an aliquot of the fluid stream with some particles therein. A parameter in the aliquot is measured that relates to quantity and/or charge of the particles. The aliquot was found to be representative of the whole fluid stream, so when the parameter deviates from a desired value, this indicates that particles in the fluid stream require treatment. The method and system can further include treating the particles in the fluid stream until the measured parameter in the aliquot returns to the desired value.

(51) Int.Cl.: H 01L 25/065, G 06F 16/16
(57) Abstract: Aspects disclosed in the detailed description include memory controller placement in a three-dimensional (3D) integrated circuit (IC) (3DIC) employing distributed through-silicon-via (TSV) farms. In this regard, in one aspect, a memory controller is disposed in a 3DIC based on a centralized memory controller placement scheme within the distributed TSV farm. The memory controller can be placed at a geometric center within multiple TSV farms to provide an approximately equal wire-length between the memory controller and each of the multiple TSV farms. In another aspect, multiple memory controllers are provided in a 3DIC based on a distributed memory controller placement scheme, in which each of the multiple memory controllers is placed adjacent to a respective TSV farm among the multiple TSV farms. By disposing the memory controller(s) based on the centralized memory controller placement scheme and/or the distributed memory controller placement scheme in the 3DIC, latency of memory access requests is minimized.

(54) Title: PORTABLE BATTERY PACK

(51) Int.Cl.: H 02J 7/00

(57) Abstract: A portable battery pack 100 has an input 124, one or more cells 120 which can store electrical energy, and a processor 132. The input 124 is removably connectable to an activation station 150 for controlling discharging of the portable battery pack 100 when the portable battery pack 100 is subsequently disconnected and remote from the activation station 150. The processor 132 is configured to enable or disable the discharging of the one of more cells 120 based on a discharging authorisation signal received at the input 124 from the activation station 150 when the input 124 is connected to the activation station 150, in order to enable or disable the discharging of the portable battery pack 100 when disconnected and remote from the activation station 150.

(57) Abstract: A DC electric motor having a stator mounted to a substrate, the stator having a coil assembly having a magnetic core, a rotor mounted to the stator with permanent magnets distributed radially about the rotor, the permanent magnets extending beyond the magnetic core, and sensors mounted to the substrate adjacent the permanent magnets. During operation of the motor passage of the permanent magnets over the sensors produces a substantially sinusoidal signal of varying voltage substantially without noise and/or saturation, allowing an angular position of the rotor relative the substrate to be determined from linear portions of the sinusoidal signal without requiring use of an encoder or position sensors and without requiring noisereduction or filtering of the signal.

(51) Int.Cl.2016.01: G 06Q 20/28, G 06Q 50/10, G 06Q 40/02, G 06Q 20/40

(57) Abstract: A system and method for mobile subscriber provisioning, particularly for recovery of airtime or mobile data advances is provided. In a method, a loan status query request is received (302), the loan status query request having been transmitted in response to a subscriber requesting to purchase a mobile bundle from a mobile bundle vendor in exchange for an amount of money. The request includes a subscriber identifier and a usage amount of a particular category of mobile telephone network utilisation associated with the mobile bundle. A loan status associated with the subscriber identifier is queried (303) to ascertain whether an outstanding loan, having a loan value, is associated with the subscriber identifier. If one or more predefined conditions are met, including if (308) the loan status indicates an outstanding loan, a mobile bundle value is determined (316) based on the usage amount and is used (320) to at least partially recover the outstanding loan.

(54) STORM DRAIN FILTER

(51) E 02D 29/00, E 03F 5/00

(57) The invention is in the field of engineering and architecture and relates to infrastructure technical works, particularly to a storm drain filter and its embodiments. this invention is particularly about a storm drain filter comprising storm water drain inlet system filter, housing/box having an open top inlet and a filter basket. the invention further discloses a storm drain filter, characterised in that the storm water drain inlet system filter includes a concretet and the housing/box has an open top inlet for receiving storm water. The housing has an outlet for discharging storm drain water received in the housing and discharging it into an underground well.

9.0 Industrial Design Applications Published Under Section 87 and Regulation 48

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the Registration of any of the Industrial designs published herein may within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal, lodge a notice of opposition on form IP 36 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh.5,000/= (local opponent) or US$ 250 (foreign opponent).

The period of lodging the notice of opposition may be extended by the Managing Director as he deems fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Managing Director to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given in writing to the applicant to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant. Representations and samples of the designs advertised herein can be seen at the Patent Registry, Kenya Industrial Property Institute, KIPi Centre, 17 Kabarsiran Avenue, Off Waiyaki Way, Lavington, Nairobi.

12.0 Trade Marks

12.1 Applications accepted for registration

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the Registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to these classes may within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal, lodge a notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh.5,000/= (local opponent) or US$ 250 (foreign opponent). The period of lodging the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he deems fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after a reasonable notice has been given in writing to the applicant for registration to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

12.4 Removals

Section 23 of the Trade Marks Act provides that registration of a trade mark in Kenya shall expire after a period of ten (10) years. The Act also provides that the proprietor of a registered trade mark may make an application for renewal of the trade mark upon completion of the prescribed Form TM 10 and payment of the prescribed renewal fee.

Rule 65 of the Trade Mark Rules provides that where no application for renewal of a registered trade mark is received upon expiry of the ten year period, the Registrar of Trade Marks shall notify the proprietor of this fact. Where no application for renewal of the registered trade mark is received within a period of sixty (60) days from the date of the notice for renewal by the Registrar, rule 67 of the Trade Mark Rules requires the Registrar of Trade Marks to publish this fact.

In accordance with the above provisions, the Registrar of Trade Marks hereby notifies the public that the proprietors of the trade marks indicated below were duly notified and that they did not file applications for renewal of their respective trade marks.

In accordance with the provisions of rules 67 and 68 of the Trade Mark Rules, the public is hereby notified as follows:

- (a) Where the proprietor of a registered trade mark makes an application for renewal of a mark that has been published herein and pays the renewal fee together with the additional prescribed late renewal fee within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be renewed and shall not be removed from the Register of Trade Marks;
- (b) Where no application for renewal of a trade mark published herein is received within thirty (30) days from the date of this publication, the trade mark shall be forthwith removed from the Register of Trade Marks; and

Once the trade mark is removed from the Register of Trade Marks, the proprietor may thereafter make an application for renewal of the mark upon payment of the prescribed renewal fee together with the additional prescribed restoration fee. The trade mark shall then be restored to the Register of Trade Marks upon the Registrar of Trade Marks being satisfied that it is just to do so and upon imposing such conditions as the Registrar may deem fit.

12.9(a) Madrid Applications accepted for registration

The following are the marks whose international registration has been notified to Kenya as a designated contracting Party by the International Bureau, World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) and which are governed by the Madrid Agreement and the Madrid Protocol. The prescribed period of twelve (12) months and eighteen months (18) respectively for refusal of the marks commences from the notification date indicated herein for each mark.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the marks may, in accordance with the provisions of rule 11(1) of the Trade Marks (International Registration) Rules 2003, file a notice of opposition within sixty (60) days from the date of this Journal on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Ksh 5,000/= (Kenyan residents) or US$ 250 (non residents).

The period of filing the notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar of Trade Marks as prescribed in the Trade Mark Rules. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar before the expiry of the sixty (60) day statutory period.

All the details of the marks advertised herein are available on WIPO's website www.wipo.int/romarin

12.9(b) Madrid Applications deemed registered automatically

The following are marks whose international registration has been notified to Kenya as a designated contracting party by the International Bureau. However, the prescribed period of twelve (12) or eighteen (18) months lapsed before the national processing was completed and subsequently were deemed registered automatically in accordance with Article 5(2) of the Madrid Agreement and the Protocol.

NOTICE is hereby given that any person aggrieved by the resultant automatic registration may, in accordance with the provisions of rule 21(2) of the Trade Marks (International Registration) Rules 2003, apply for rectification of the register under Rule 16(3).

All the details of the marks advertised herein are available on WIPO's website www.wipo.int/romarin
